RULING ON ENTITLEMENT¹

On April 2, 2021, Julie Parrish filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, *et seq.*² (the “Vaccine Act”). Petitioner alleges that she suffered a shoulder injury related to vaccine administration (“SIRVA”), a defined Table injury, after receiving the influenza vaccine on October 21, 2019. Petition at 1, ¶ 2. Petitioner further alleges that she received the vaccine within the United States, that she suffered the residual effects of her injury for more than six months, and that neither she nor any other party has filed a civil action or received compensation for his injury. Id. at ¶¶ 2, 24-25. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

If, upon review, I agree that the identified material fits within this definition, I will redact such material from public access.

² National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986, Pub. L. No. 99-660, 100 Stat. 3755. Hereinafter, for ease of citation, all section references to the Vaccine Act will be to the pertinent subparagraph of 42 U.S.C. § 300aa (2012).

On January 17, 2023, Respondent filed his Rule 4(c) report in which he concedes that Petitioner is entitled to compensation in this case. Respondent's Rule 4(c) Report at 1. Specifically, Respondent "that [P]etitioner has satisfied the criteria set forth on the Vaccine Injury Table ("Table") and the Qualifications and Aids to Interpretation ("QAI") for a Shoulder Injury Related to Vaccine Administration ("SIRVA"). Id. at 9.

In view of Respondent's position and the evidence of record, I find that Petitioner is entitled to compensation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
